He concluded that his primary goal was to unify Saddle Brook and restore community pride.

Councilman Accomando and Councilwoman D'Arminio each thanked everyone for coming and thanked them for their support. Councilwoman D'Arminio promised to work with the Mayor and the police chief for the betterment of the police department and their service to the community.

Mr. Louis D'Arminio of Avon Lane said today was a day of personal pride for himself as well as for Saddle Brook. He said to see his wife elected as a Councilwoman is a very proud moment for him. He said the position of Mayor is a very personal elected position, but Mayor White is the right mayor with the right council at the right time here for Saddle Brook. He said they would be supported by the Township because of that, and we are here to help you and to support you and this township is going to prosper because of you. He said, God Bless each and every one of you, and he then thanked the rest of the Council for their service years. He said they all did a great job.

Mr. Joe Delaney, Councilman and former Mayor of Garfield, said Garfield has always been a friend of Saddle Brook and Saddle Brook is known as Upper Garfield. He wished the Mayor and Council the best of luck and said together they would work side by side.

Chief Robert Kugler said it was sad that Mayor White was leaving the police department but he had the interests of each and every one of us at heart. He said Mayor White would do what was right for this community, and he was glad that his Deputy Chief was now his boss. He congratulated Councilman Accomando and Councilwoman D'Arminio as well.
